

[A brief daily update from the SCS Dean's Office]

TODAY'S TOPICS

— Summer programs: in-person, on-campus courses and formal summer programming can only be offered in remote or online formats at all CMU U.S.-based domestic locations through August 1. Note that this decision does not apply to on-campus research activity; decisions about when research activities can resume will be made separately.

— We're in this for a while, together. With countless online meetings combined with overflowing inboxes, be thoughtful in your communication and mindful of things (personal and professional) your email recipients may be dealing with. I appreciate that everyone is trying to conduct business as usual -- now in a new and unusual work environment.

OF NOTE

— Happening at 5 p.m. today, Harry Q. Bovik reminds you that the 14th edition of the SIGBOVIK conference, featuring the world's most important presentations, may be happening via Zoom and YouTube. More information might be available at <http://sigbovik.org/2020/>

— The CMU Dean's Council offers access to a BOX folder that has resources to support remote work for staff and faculty: Deans' Council Resources: Supporting Remote Work

SHARE YOUR STORY

Do you have a story to share about teaching, learning or working remotely? Are you overcoming challenges or discovering strength within yourself or new things about your classmates or colleagues while we find ourselves operating in a new paradigm? Help everyone in SCS feel more connected by sharing your story, share-your-story@cs.cmu.edu
