

SCS TODAY | October 19, 2020

[A late-day M-W-F update from the SCS Dean's Office]

On Mondays, SCS TODAY focuses on upcoming events that may be of interest to the SCS community. Mondays are always a good time to visit SCS EVENTS to see what's on the calendar for the week.

THIS WEEK

— October 20: University Libraries presents Open Science Symposium to build awareness and support for the adoption of open research practices and encourages innovative ideas about data sharing. Learn more and register to attend.

— October 20, 7 p.m.: For students, Keeping it Clean: The Art of Clean Code at Google is a brief but informative online chat session with Googlers, allowing students to gain a better understanding of clean code and learn methods for implementing best practices throughout internships and beyond.

— October 21, Spark: Startups and Emerging Companies Virtual Career Fair, 12:30 – 4 p.m.: Spark is an innovative virtual career event designed to provide a way for small businesses and early stage start-ups to engage with CMU students and alumni.

— October 22, 5 – 6 p.m.: Virtually celebrate SCS Professorships when Christos Faloutsos receives the Fredkin Professorship in Artificial Intelligence, Mor Harchol-Balter receives the Dr. Bruce J. Nelson Professorship in Computer Science and Katia Sycara receives the Edward Fredkin Research Professorship. Register to attend before tomorrow.

COMING UP

— Preparing for next semester's SCS Day, the SCS Day logo competition is now open! An annual day of pride for the School of Computer Science, SCS Day is a great way to celebrate the talents and passion of members of our community. Your proposed logo design for this year needs to reflect the theme, "Around the World," and include the SCS Dragon (wearing a mask!), limited to three colors.

Until Wednesday,
---- Martial

All of us share A Tartan's Responsibility and as members of the CMU community we must do our part to prevent the spread of COVID-19. If you plan to come to campus, you must complete the CMU Self-Assessment Survey. Even if you're not coming to campus, CMU Community Health & Well-Being strongly encourages daily completion of the survey.
