

Please provide a brief statement highlighting your past experience with, or future plans for, having a broad impact on CMU and society. In this statement you might consider telling us about your plans for unique curriculum design, or broadening the distribution of your research results beyond traditional audiences, or broadening participation among underrepresented groups. We are interested in learning anything you wish to share about your own personal background, and your general plans as a future member of our faculty, to benefit CMU and society.
